

charleston

CharlestonWeddingsMag.com

weddings

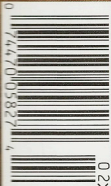

the essential guide for every Lowcountry bride

Summer 2011

Your Perfect Day
dream settings for celebrating!

USA $5.95

200+
gush-worthy IDEAS

Plus!

Inspired Real-Life Weddings • The Bow-Tie Guy •
Palmetto Roses • Spring Gowns at Middleton Place

SPECIAL SECTION!

Runway Glamour, Sweets, & Treats

PART OF CHARLESTON FASHION WEEK
(SEE PAGE 120)

theme: Summer Sleek

The event design team at WED and photographer-slash-stationer Heather Forsythe joined to make a cocktail-hour or reception lounge area

The florals: Katie fashioned a relaxed but uniform look by mixing and matching white and green nosegay bouquets of Dusty Miller, hydrangea, peonies, spray roses, Star of Bethlehem, and thistle in a mélange of mercury glass vessels. For an earthy-meets-elegant touch, she wrapped the boutonniere (middle right) in raffia and turquoise ribbon.

The stationery suite: Elements from the wedding program (middle right) showed up throughout the setting: turquoise was the lounge's signature color; the program's banner flag re-appears as a "Marry Me Mai Tai" swizzle (bottom right); and its signature lettering tops the favor box of petit fours from Twenty Six Divine (below).

The setting: Katie

Heubel and Ellen A. Robinson of WED made chic comfortable by pairing mirrored cubes (from Pier 1 Imports) with cord "poufs" seats (from CB2). The duo also cooled off a semi-formal summertime scene by working with an icy palette of silver, white, and turquoise. Their favorite touches? The etched crystal tumblers with a pattern that popped thanks to a blue cocktail; the lantern with its Edison bulb and ribbon-wrapped chain; and how votives and flowers lightened a fireplace for the season.

